

Question 11Answer: True

Anyone 16 years and older may volunteer to join the Armed Forces in Canada, as long as they have not been coerced into joining, know exactly what they are volunteering for, and have obtained consent from a parent or legal guardian. However, they may not engage in combat if they have not reached the age of 18.